Whatever you do, don't be her victim. Don't hurt her. Don't make her do anything she doesn't want to do. Don't let anyone make you do anything. These messages may be a part of a bigger scam. Sometimes scammers use scams as a way to lure you into revealing personal information. Heck, I see a level of bullshit a mile high. Your kid may just be easily misled and told she's not a you unless she's the perfect child. YOU are not HER dad, YOU ARE HER FATHER. What parents will not do, what "not-a-fathers" will do, is completely mess up their own child. You have to realize that. The less power you give over her, the less power she will have. Someone who controls her to such a degree will completely mess her up, and the parents will not be able to do anything about it. You don't understand at all what is happening. I assure you, it's not a "girl want her dad" issue. It's a "he doesn't want to be around her at all" issue. He is going to ask you to take her out, and if you do, it will be for one reason only.

Because he knows you are her father, and will take her away from you. He is going to ask you to help him fight the child support. That is not what he wants, it is what he has to do. The fact that he will ask you to do this is a telltale sign of your child being raped by a lowlife. What is next is he will stop talking to you. He will stop calling you, will stop responding to you, and will just go cold turkey. There is nothing you can do. He is better off without you, and your daughter is better off with him. Your daughter is not the one being bad, it is him. The fact that he is turning on you and your daughter is just a great sign of how deep he is in this and how badly he wants it to happen. And in the end, he will stop talking to you. You will no longer be allowed to talk to him. He will no longer text you. If you want to talk to him, it will be at your own peril. I would go ahead and give him full custody of her. You have to do it, or he will use her against you, and he will take her out of the country. 82157476af
